Dearest Farid פדיד קירי — ירני פריד

These are some of my wishes for you... for 1989, and always,
May you find serenity & tranquility in a world you may not always understand.

May the pain you have known and the conflict you have experienced give you the strength to walk through life facing each new situation with courage and optimism. Always know that there are those who love, and understanding will always be there, even when you feel most alone. May you discover enough goodness in others to believe in a world of peace.
May a kind word, a reassuring touch, and a warm smile
be yours everyday of your life, and may you give these gifts as well as you receive them. Remember the sunshine when the storm seems unending.

Teach love to those who know hate, and let that love embrace you as you go into the world.....

May the teachings of those you admire become part of you, so that you may call upon them. Remember, those whose lives you have touched, and have touched yours are always a part of you, even if the encounters were less than you would have wished. It is the content of the encounter that is more important than its form. May you not become too concerned with material matters, but instead place immeasurable value on the goodness in your heart.

Find time each day for beauty and love in the world around you. Realise that each person has limitless possibilities and ability, but each one of us is different in our own way. What you feel you lack in the present may become one of your strengths in the future. May you see your future as one filled with promise and possibility.

Learn to view everything as a worthwhile experience. May

You find enough inner strength to determine your own worth by yourself, and not be dependant on anothers judgement of your accomplishments.

May you always feel loved.....

Please, I hope I am not being pressumptuous by writing in such an open manner, life is so unpredictable at times and meeting you if only for a short while, brought tremendous joy and confusion (of feelings) into my life so suddenly.

The saying that one can know a true friend within moments of meeting, and others a whole lifetime without ever really knowing them seems applicable of the way I feel. I was sorry that I was not at my brother Andys house when you phoned (usually Monday evening/night I stay with them on my day off,) I would have liked very much to have spoken with you. If you would like to phone me after December 23rd and before January 5th I would love to hear from you... I am here alone with the younger children whilst the parents are visiting the states and the older children are away at school. I look forward very much to hearing from you Farid. May G-d bless you, with happiness, success and good health.

Dear Farid...

How are you? I hope this communique finds you well, wherever you are.

I hoped very much that you would have contacted me as I wanted to express my sincere gratitude to you for such a lovely evening. It was as if G-d chose that direction for me from Mount Sinai in order to meet you, and I was very happy to have done so, my only sadness was that I did not hear from you again; if only to know you were safe and happy, that was the important factor.

You probably did not realise how strong an impact you had on me, after living in a religiously observant community for six months then going to Sinai for a few days vacation, the finale of my trip was meeting you. You treated me as a lady, something I have not appreciated in a long time. You obviously have the qualities in a man of which I didn't believe to exist anymore.

It was, on that basis I believed that G-d Almighty had answered my prayers on Rabia Tari 5, 1409 Tuesday 15th November 1988 6 Chislev 5749, between Egypt and Israel. I just want you to know you restored my faith in mankind, to know that men, especially an Englishman still have the qualities that are so rare to find today.

God bless you Farid...
I pray we will meet again...

Warmest regards

Linda
